Inflatable Baby Floats Recalled Due to Drowning Hazard

4 million Aqua-Leisure inflatable baby floats sold at Toys"R"Us, Walmart, Target, Dollar General, Kmart, Walgreens, Ace Hardware, and Bed, Bath & Beyond between December 2002 and June 2009 have been recalled after 31 reports of the float seat and/or leg straps tearing, causing children to fall into or under the water. This defect poses a risk of drowning.

What should I do if I have an Aqua-Leisure Inflatable Baby Float?

1. Stop using the inflatable baby float immediately.
2. Contact Aqua-Leisure at 866-807-3998 to determine if your inflatable baby float is part of the recall, or visit Aqua-Leisure's Web site at www.aqualeisure.com. If you have a recalled inflatable baby float, you'll receive a full refund.
3. Call the Illinois Attorney General's Product Recall Hotline with questions or concerns about this or any other product recall at 1-888-414-7678; TTY: 1-800-964-3013; En Espanol: 1-866-310-8398.
