If you are not a U.S. citizen and you are carrying your immigration papers, you may refuse to consent to the search you, your belongings, your car or your home, unless the officers or agents have a warrant. You may tell the officers or immigration agent that you choose to remain silent.

If the warrant is issued by a court and signed by a judge, the officers may enter your home. If the warrant is not signed by a judge, you are not required to let them inside. You may say, "You are not allowed to enter." If the officers or agents force their way into your home, do not resist. You may say, "You are not allowed to enter." If police officers or immigration agents come to your home, do not open the door. You may ask the officers or agents why they are there. You have the right to remain silent and you are not required to answer any questions. You may tell the officers or immigration agents that you choose to remain silent. I wish to speak with an attorney as soon as possible. You have the right to consult with an immigration attorney if the agent asks to see your immigration papers, you must show your papers to an immigration agent if the agent asks to see your papers. You may ask the officers or agents if they are immigration agents.

If you are arrested:

- You do not have to open the door if police officers or immigration agents come to your home and do not have a warrant.
- You may ask for an interpreter if they do not speak your language.
- You may ask the officer or agents why they are there.
- You have the right to remain silent. I wish to speak with an attorney as soon as possible.
- You may ask what agency they represent and specifically if they are immigration agents or not.
- You may ask the officer or agents whether they are there.
- You may ask for an interpreter if they do not speak your language.
- You have the right to remain silent and you are not required to answer any questions. You may tell the police officer or immigration agent that you choose to remain silent.
- You have the right to request an interpreter.
- You have the right to request to speak with an attorney.
- You may refuse to consent to the search.
- You have the right to remain silent. I wish to speak with an attorney as soon as possible.
- You have the right to remain silent. I wish to speak with an attorney as soon as possible.
- You have the right to consult with an immigration attorney if the agent asks to see your immigration papers and work permit with you at all times.

If you are carried away:

- You have the right to remain silent and you are not required to answer any questions.
- You have the right to make a final decision or sign a document if you do not fully understand it.
- You may make a formal complaint if your rights have been violated and you choose to file a complaint.
- You have the right to request an interpreter.
- You have the right to request to speak with an attorney.
- You have the right to remain silent.
- You have the right to consult with an immigration attorney if the agent asks to see your immigration papers and work permit with you at all times.

If you are detained in a state correctional facility:

- You have the right to remain silent.
- You have the right to make a final decision or sign a document if you do not fully understand it.
- You may make a formal complaint if your rights have been violated and you choose to file a complaint.
- You have the right to request an interpreter.
- You have the right to request to speak with an attorney.
- You have the right to remain silent.
- You have the right to consult with an immigration attorney if the agent asks to see your immigration papers and work permit with you at all times.

You have the right to remain silent and you are not required to answer any questions. You may tell the officer or immigration agent that you choose to remain silent. You have the right to remain silent. I wish to speak with an attorney as soon as possible. You have the right to consult with an immigration attorney if the agent asks to see your immigration papers and work permit with you at all times.